Federation Did Not Take Kindly to Socialist.

SAN FRANCISCO ALSO WON

SALT LAKE FAILED TO GET CONVENTION.

Boston, Nov. 21.—Samuel Gompers was today re-elected president of the American Federation of Labor.

The first business of the day was the reading of invitations from cities desiring the next annual convention of the federation. No action was taken on the invitation from Milwaukee and from the governor of Utah and Salt Lake City until the committee on grievances, who recommended no action necessary to the complaint of the Wood, Wire & Metal Lathers' International union against the Brotherhood of Carpenters & Joiners, and the convention continued.

On the objection of the Bottlers' union to the maintenance of jurisdiction by the Brewery Workers' union, the committee reported in favor of giving the Brewery Workers jurisdiction, and the report was concurred in.

In the case of grievance arising from the question as to whether the blacksmiths' helpers should join with the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths or the International Association of Allied Metal Mechanics, the committee reported in favor of accepting the recommendation of the empire in the matter, which was that helpers affiliate with the blacksmiths' union.

Gompers Chosen.

Without setting this question, the delegates took up the election of officers.

Delegate Kramer of Richmond, Va., placed in nomination for president. Samuel Gompers, Mr. Kramer made a brief speech eulogistic of his nominee, whom he characterized as "widely known for the Roberts and Binney of his purpose, and for his earnestness in the cause of labor, and one who had given his entire life for the cause of organized labor."

Then Delegate DeBarry of St. Louis, in a few words, nominated Ernest Krefl, the man who had been selected as the candidate of the socialist delegates. The convention voted by roll call, and President Gompers was re-elected by an overwhelming majority. The vote stood: Gompers, 12,524; Krefl, 1,134.

Other Officers Elected.

The following officers were elected by acclamation: First vice president, James W. Duncan, Washington, D. C., president of the Granite Cutters' National union; second vice president, John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America; third vice president, James O'Connell, Washington, D. C., president of the International Association of Machinists; fourth vice president, Max Morris of Denver, Colo., member of the Retail Clerks' International Protective association; fifth vice president, John W. Clayton of New Castle, Pa., representing the United Brotherhood of Carpenters & Joiners of America, was nominated by the socialist delegates. Thomas J. Kidd of Chicago of the Amalgamated Woodworkers' International union, Kidd was elected, the vote standing 10,277 for Kidd and 2,000 for O'Connell.

D. A. Hayes of Philadelphia of the Glass Bottle Blowers' Association of the United States and Canada, was elected sixth vice president. Daniel J. Keefe of Chicago, member of the International Longshoremen's union, seventh vice president.

The federation voted to hold their next convention in San Francisco.

GILICK WILL TELL ON THE OTHER FELLOW

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 21.—The indictment against Joseph G. Gillick, a member of the Democratic county committee from Carroll county, was dismissed in the United States district court today by District Attorney Dyer. Gillick will be the chief witness against "Al" Morrow, Governor Dockery's stenographer, and Thomas L. Barrett, formerly marshal of the circuit court of appeals with whom he was jointly indicted on charges resulting from the naturalization frauds.

Gillick is understood to be willing to tell the full story. Assistant District Attorney Norton expects to open the trial on Monday.

COLLEGE CAN INHERIT.

New York, Nov. 21.—The appellate division of the supreme court has decided that the trustees of Columbia college are empowered to inherit the residuary estate of Stephen Whitney Phoenix, who died in 1881. The executors found that the bequest was worth $31,000. The college has now inherited over $18,000 of the estate in bonds and securities. Some of the heirs contested on the ground that the college, under its charter, cannot hold real estate with an income exceeding $20,000 a year.

EXTRADITION GRANTED.

London, Nov. 21.—Extradition was granted today for Charles Tappan and Kebar, the two Christians who were arrested at Southampton, Oct. 21, charged with the murder of S. T. Ferguson at West Middletown, Pa.

BOTH FEEL.

What Proper Food Does For Both Mind and Body.

Physical health, mental health, indeed almost everything good on this earth depends in great measure upon proper food.

Without health nothing is worth while, and health can be won almost every time by proper feeding on the scientific food, Grape-Nuts.

A California trained nurse proved this. "Three years ago I was taken very sick, my weight had fallen, and I was having work me out both in body and mind, and medicine failed to relieve me at all. After seeing a number of physicians and specialists, and getting no relief, I was very much discouraged and felt that I would die of general nervous and physical collapse.

"My condition was so bad I never imagined food would help me, but on the advice of a friend I tried Grape-Nuts. The first package brought me so much relief that I quit the medicines and used Grape-Nuts steadily three times a day. The result was that within six months I had so completely regained my strength and health that I was back nursing again, and I feel the improvement in my brain power just as plainly as I do in physical strength.

"After my own wonderful experience with Grape-Nuts I have recommended it to my patients with splendid success and it has worked wonders in the cases of many invalids whom I have attended professionally." Name given by Postum company, Battle Creek, Mich.

FAIRY PALACES IN WASHINGTON

ton who really understands the art of tea making.

There are some houses, those of the admirals of the navy, the chief of the general staff and the chief justice of the supreme bench, at which the line of callers is long and faithful. Men and women of the army and the navy feel it an obligation to call on the heads of the service in which they are engaged. The chief justice is the arbiter of official etiquette.

But as for the American "salon," in which national politics shall be moulded, it has not yet arrived.

Some New Youths.

There is a bunch of youngsters in the house of representatives that threatens to make the speaker's head whiter than ever. Last week he was kept busy with the gavel, and it is more than his usual duties that the "babes of the house" have been accountable for some of the disturbance. But what can be expected when a state chooses to elect a school boy to represent it in the greatest legislative body in the country? Hon. Burton Lee French of Idaho is just 23. It is doubtful if he has any hair on his head. Like so many other prominent men, he comes originally from Indiana. One begins to wonder what is the trouble with the state—does it seem to want to stay there. Mr. French left when he was 3.

Morris Sheppard, who came into the fifty-seventh congress to take the seat left vacant by the death of his father, is about 3 months older than French. He may be regarded as representing the younger element of politics in Texas. His elderly opponents tried to laugh him down, but his campaign was such a vigorous one that he beat them out of their staunchest supporters.

The Landis family of Indiana, who landed another son in the lower house of congress. Frederick Landis, the new member from the Eleventh Indiana district, is only 30, but he has been in politics since he discarded pinafores.

The South Carolinians have sent up a representative of the tender age of 29. Ashbury Francis Lever. He goes to the Democratic side of the house.

Thomas William Hardwick, from Georgia, is the fifth of the "babes." He is nearly 32. He has been practicing law for nearly ten years. What the five will accomplish, how wide a swath they will cut, remain to be seen.

Ehrman's Opportunity.

If there is a story behind the Panama situation, no man is more apt to know it than the United States vice consul at Panama, Frederick Ehrman. He has his hands full at present. Mr. Ehrman is an Alsatian by birth, but was educated in Louisiana, where he has lived since his childhood. When he was 21 he went with an older brother to the isthmus, where they founded a banking house, with a branch office in New Orleans. Owing to his long residence in Panama, his fluency in Spanish, French, German and Italian, and his knowledge of the business methods of the natives, he is particularly fitted for the position of consul general for this country, which has been several times offered to him, but each time refused. When he finally accepted the vice consulship it was more as an accommodation to the consulate and for the honor attached thereto than because of any expectation that he would be called upon for real service. But the revolutions of the volcanic little country have made the active service of Mr. Ehrman a necessity.

Cloak Room Stories.

These are not such busy days at the capital but what the speaker finds a moment to linger, as of old, in the committee rooms and lobbies and tell a tale or make a witty sentence. A few days ago he was hovering on the

BRITISH GOVERNMENT SHOWS AN INTEREST IN COLOMBIA'S DEBTS

Washington, Nov. 21.—The British government is showing an interest in the fate of the bond issue by Colombia and taken up by foreigners, mostly British and Dutch holders. Mr. Raikes, the British chargé here, had a half hour's talk today with Secretary Hay at the state department and it is believed that this subject was touched upon.

The position of the department in brief is that it cannot dictate to the new republic of Panama what disposition shall be made of the money which is to be paid over by the United States in consideration of canal rights, but it certainly holds that it is only right and just that Panama in concluding a treaty of peace with Colombia shall make provision for the assumption of a fair share of the public debt. So it is expected the moral force of the department will be put forth in this direction.

OREGON LEGISLATURE CALLED TO MEET IN EXTRAORDINARY SESSION

Salem, Ore., Nov. 21.—Governor Chamberlain today issued a call to the members of the legislative assembly of the state of Oregon, commanding them to meet at the capital building in this city on Monday, Dec. 21, 1903, for the purpose of convening an extraordinary session of the legislature to enact laws to provide for levy of taxes on assessment rolls for the year 1902.

The call was made from the fact that a certain existing law passed by the legislative assembly of 1903, providing the manner of assessment and the levy and collection of taxes, known as the Phelps law. The Phelps law repealed the old law, but did not provide for a tax levy for 1903, thus leaving the state and counties without revenue from taxation for an entire year. Over sixty

PORT OFFERED UNCLE SAM.

Santo Domingo in Great Need of Protection.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Nov. 21.—Senator Galvan, the foreign minister of the republic of Santo Domingo, has arrived here on his way to Washington, and he will offer the United States Samana bay as a coaling station in exchange for the United States' support of the government of San Domingo, whose president, General Vioy Gil, will make a desperate resistance to the rebels before the capital pending Galvan's arrival at Washington. Galvan intended to sail from San Juan, Nov. 18, but missed his connections and will not be able to leave until Nov. 28, when he will start for the United States from Ponce.

MADE A GOOD HAUL.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 21.—The residence of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, the founder of Christian Science, was entered today and a number of gold and silver articles and other valuables were taken. The police have no clue.

STEAMER LAUNCHED.

Belfast, Nov. 21.—The White Star line steamer, Baiter, the largest steamer in the world, was successfully launched here today. Her displacement is 39,600 tons.

edge of a little bunch of men who were talking over their boys. Charles B. Landis of Indiana has a clever little chap, something of a clip as boys go. Said Mr. Landis: "It would gratify me exceedingly if the was addressed his young hopeful if you would go to the head of your class and remain there. I hope you will make a grand effort and see if you can reach the head of your class." The youngster promptly replied: "Papa, did you always stand at the head of your classes?" Landis owned up to his colleague that the boy had him going there; and here Speaker Cannon remarked: "Charles, isn't that the same boy who, when you asked him when the chicken he would have, said, 'The piece you have on your plate, papa?' I think it must be the same."

There is a story told of Cannon which illustrates his common sense more than any other quality. He was engaged in a heated controversy with a friend upon campaign matters. The friend was somewhat of an enemy. "Mr. Cannon seems unpatriotic," he said. "He's going to vote against us. Queer, isn't it?" His father and grandfather were soldiers. He's a revolutionary stock!" "Well, what of it," Mr. Cannon snapped. "You can't pump patriotism out of a pedigree."

Candidates For Chaplain.

The vacancy in the office of chaplain of the senate caused by the death of the late Rev. W. H. Milburn brings a rush of reverend gentlemen from all over the country, anxious to pray for the welfare of the senate at $300 per annum. If any one of the applicants were blind he would lead his competitors in the race for preferment, as it has been customary for many years to give the place to some unfortunate in this respect. Chaplain Milburn was blind, and the chaplain of the house, Rev. Mr. Couden, is sightless.

May Cause Rupture.

The protest against the confirmation of Leonard Wood as major general, which is now before the senate committee on military affairs, may be the rock which will cause a public controversy between the president and Senator Hanna. The contest is made at the instance of the Ohio senator, who has brought as chief witness to prove General Wood's unfitness for promotion Major E. G. Rathbone, whose arrest, imprisonment and humiliation for alleged violation of the law while acting as director of posts for Cuba, is well remembered. Hanna has never ceased to believe in the innocence of Rathbone, and it is well known he attributes his troubles to the hostility of General Wood. It is believed the president will be the victor in the military committee in the action it will take on Wood's nomination. The Rathbone matter and Wood's administration in Cuba are now upon an ancient history. Aside from the merits of the case, the rejection of the nomination of Wood to be major general would result in very embarrassing complications in the army. The acceptance and promotion of General Wood was followed by the promotion of ten colonels to be brigadier generals, and by a similar number of promotions in all of the lower grades of the army. The rejection of the nomination would affect all of the officers advanced and would leave many of them out of the ranks. Many of the colonels retiring at their own request at the advanced grade after promotion.

THE FEAR OF HUMBAG

Prevents Many People From Trying a Good Medicine.

Stomach troubles are so common and in most cases so obstinate to cure that people are apt to look with suspicion on any remedy claiming to be a radical, permanent cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. Many such pride themselves on their astuteness in never being humbugged, especially in medicines.

This fear of being humbugged can be carried too far, so far, in fact, that many people suffer for years with weak digestion rather than risk a little use and money in faithfully testing the claims made of a preparation so reliable and universally used as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Now Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are vastly different in one important respect from ordinary proprietary medicines for the reason that they are not a secret patent medicine, but analysis shows them to contain the natural digestive ferments, pure aseptic pepsin, the digestive acids of the stomach, bismuth, hydrastis and nux. They are not cathartic, neither do they act powerfully on any organ, but they cure indigestion on the common sense plan of digesting the food eaten thoroughly before it has time to ferment, sour and cause the mischief. This is the only secret of their success.

Cathartic pills never have and never can cure indigestion and stomach troubles because they act entirely on the bowels, whereas the whole trouble is really in the stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets taken after meals digest the food. That is all there is to it. Food not digested or half digested is poison and creates gas, acidity, heartaches, palpitation of the heart, loss of flesh and appetite and many other troubles which are often called by some other name.

They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package.

SORRY LYMAN IS TO LEAVE THEM

European Mission Will Greatly Miss the Apostle.

HIS WORK VERY EFFECTIVE

HEBER J. GRANT IS TO TAKE CHARGE

(Special Correspondence.)

London, England, Nov. 7.—The release of President Francis M. Lyman from the presidency of the European mission and the appointment of Elder Heber J. Grant to succeed him was not expected so soon by those who have labored under a mission. It was thought that he would be here another six months or a year. The church members and the 600 missionaries throughout Europe will be sorry to see President Lyman depart. His policies have been very beneficial and effective, and he has won the unbounded love and confidence of everyone. Notwithstanding this, there will be a warm welcome for President Grant. He will find the mission in excellent condition. The change of presidents will occur on Jan. 1, and it is expected that President Lyman will sail for home on Jan. 14.

S. J. Foster of St. George arrived in London this week from Australia, en route home from a visit to Europe. He came via the Suez canal to Naples, having sailed from Australia Sept. 19. From Naples he traveled overland by way of Rome and Paris to London. The trip has been a very enjoyable one. He will sail for home on the Roumania, Nov. 19, and will complete his circuit of the globe in time to eat Christmas dinner at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shipp of Salt Lake City are in London for a week from Bradford, where Mr. Shipp is doing missionary work. Mrs. Shipp will probably remain in London all winter, and in the spring hopes to be joined by her mother, Mrs. Isaac Barton of Salt Lake.

Mr. Junius F. Wells has about completed the business that brought him to England, and he hopes to be able to sail for home on Nov. 10. Mrs. Wells and Miss Wells are at present in Paris, where Mr. Wells will join them early next week. During the summer Mr. Wells and family have made an extensive tour of Europe, and in addition to the business matters that have engaged much of his attention, Mr. Wells has found time to enjoy thoroughly his visit.

The following Utahns passed through London last week on their way home from missions on the continent: Arthur Halverson, Ogden; Archie B. Kesler, C. A. Carlson, Salt Lake; Charles Olson, Millville, and Hans F. Paulson, Plain City.

Harry E. Smith, once a resident of Wood's Cross, who came to England two years ago on a visit, will return to Utah on the boat sailing Nov. 19, taking with him a wife and infant son. They expect to locate permanently in Davis county.

John Gilechrist of Lewisville, Ida., at present doing missionary work in Southampton, has been released to return home Nov. 19.

Henry A. Cleveland of Centerville will sail for home on the 9th, after completing a two years' mission in the Leeds conference.

Walter Wallace of Salt Lake is expected in London any day on his way home from Berlin. He will probably spend a week or two here.

CHRONIC SORES Signs of Polluted Blood.

There is nothing so repulsive looking and disgusting as an old sore. You worry over it till the brain grows weary and work with it until the patience is exhausted, and the very sight of the old festering, sickly looking place makes you irritable, despondent and desperate.

A chronic sore is the very best evidence that your blood is in an unhealthy and impoverished condition, that your constitution is breaking down under the effects of some serious disorder. The taking of strong medicines, like mercury or potash, will sometimes so pollute and vitiate the blood and impair the general system that the merest scratch or bruise results in obstinate non-healing sores of the most offensive character.

Often an inherited taint breaks out in frightful eating sores upon the limbs or face in old age or middle life. Whenever a sore refuses to heal the blood is always at
